GRANGER MERCANTILE COLLEGE.

This Institution, whose advertisement appears in our columns to-day, possesses a high reputation among such as it is to be found in America, and is entitled to the confidence of every one throughout the country. Located at Granger, with reference to Eastern Ohio, we consider it to be the most eligible institution of the kind there.

In mercantile pursuits, as in every other department of life, education is almost indispensable, and the various departments of science necessary to fit us for a commercial life, in any branch of trade are taught more thoroughly in the above named institution.

Cupid's Anniversary.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY, will soon be here, and many a bashful swain will be the story of his love, who never would venture so far before. Many a timid maiden, too, who failed to whisper the secret of her love to her own ears, will entrust it to Uncle Sam's kindly hands, to carry safely to its destination. God prosper the timid lover, for the inferring lip, and tremulous tongue, are oft the agents of a noble heart.
